Figure 4. Comparison of class sets. A) The mean decrease in accuracy due to dropping each feature in turn from a model (using the complete feature set) classifying between all species, between aphids vs beetles, between aphid species and between beetle species.