Figure 2. Species classification error rates. Shows the box and whisker plots of the maximum class probability predicted for each observation in the validation dataset and split according to whether the classification was correct or not.